REYNOLDS HISTORICAL GENEALOGY COLLECTION

GC

ALLEN COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY

3 1833 01237 6502

This genealogical record was begun in January 1921 with the tabulation of my paternal grandparents and their descendants, with birth, marriage and death dates and places. This included four generations and expanded into the Fry history thru grandma Eason.

Then grandfather James Madison Eason (always called "Matt") had to go to the Civil War, grandma Sarah (Fry) Eason (always called "Sally") took her two little girls Cathran and Mary Jane and went to live at the home of her brother Washington Fry, there in Tipton, Missouri. At that time she was expecting her third child who became my father, but before that she had received word that her husband had been killed. The following summer little Cathran died. THE EASON RECORD. George Wells and they went to Brown County, Illinois in a covered wagon.

Although by had a great desire to enlarge the family history there was no one living at that time, that I knew of, who had ever Ruth Winifred (Eason) Lindenberger, and Mary Jane Stephens (always called Jenn) Topeka, Kans. she knew nothing except that her father had been killed in the Civil War. Still, while visiting in California 1951, the first time I ever met her, and I again insisted upon finding out something about the Eason line.

And allied families of RIERSON, CRAIN, Mary and Jane who married Toler brothers.

CHANDLER, TOLER, ZUMWALT, HOWARD, PHILLIPS, and even had a little bit of information the years I had been trying. However, with that little bit of data material began to take form. In working on the Fry line I had had correspondence with an elderly man in Oklahoma who had written that he intended visiting at Tipton that fall. So I hastened a letter begging him to send me the names and addresses of anybody in that part of Missouri named Toler. He did so, and I learned that not only two Eason sisters had married Toler brothers, but three of them had! Furthermore, grandfather had a brother Peter and a sister Margaret who married into the same Zumwalt family, and they had moved to St. Louis.

Little by little the "threads" were woven into whole cloth and the family of ten children of my great grandparents were properly tabulated.

In writing to Peter's son for information his son Ralph answered, as he, too, was interested in Eason genealogy. Later, he brought his adorable wife Esther to visit us in Lawrence, Kans. where we lived, and suggested that he would like to rent a hall in St. Louis to enable me to meet the sixty or more relatives there if I would come as the guest of honor.

This party was arranged in September 1925 and it was a great satisfaction to me to at last be able to meet some of my father's people even though I had to wait until I was thirty-six years of age.

THE EASON RECORD.

This genealogical record was begun in January 1921 with the tabulation of my paternal grandparents and their descendants, with birth, marriage and death dates and places. This included four generations and expanded into the Fry history thru grandma Eason.

When grandfather James Madison Eason (always called "Matt") had to go to the Civil War, grandma Sarah(Fry) Eason---- (always called "Sally") took her two little girls: Cathran and Mary Jane and went to live at the home of her brother Washington Fry, there in Tipton, Missouri. At that time she was expecting her third child who became my father, but before that she had received word that her husband had been killed. The following summer little Cathran died. In 1873 grandma married George Wells and they went to Brown county, Illinois in a covered wagon.

Although I had a great desire to enlarge the family history there was no one living at that time, that I knew of, who had ever known the Eason ancestry. Even my aunt Mary Jane Stephens (always called Jennie) kept telling me that she knew nothing except that her father had been killed in the Civil War. Still, while visiting in California in 1933---the first time I ever met her, and I again insisted upon finding out something about the Easons she said "All I know is that ma said I was named for two of pa's sisters: Mary and Jane who married Toler brothers."

It surprised me that I had been denied even that little bit of information the years I had been trying. However, with that little bit of data the material began to take form. In working on the Fry line I had had correspondence with an elderly man in Oklahoma who had written that he intended visiting at Tipton that fall. Then, having learned that our great-grandparents had migrated to Missouri about 1840 from North Carolina my research and attention was turned in that direction. A great deal of time, effort and money were expended in trying to learn who the emigrant ancestor was to leave some place in Europe and settle in America. I always presumed that we were English, but as nearly as I was ever able to PROVE, the Easons of North Carolina descended from one William Eason and sons Thomas and John who settled in Perquimans county, North Carolina about 1719 after having left Perth, Scotland in 1710 (I don't know where they lingered in the meantime!)

According to legal records such as wills, it seems that the Easons were prolific. To sort out every one in those olden times appeared to be much too great a task. There were times when I wished that I had never even wanted to know. But I must have more perseverance than brains for I kept right on, as though my life depended upon finding every piece of the puzzle!

Had I been free to go back to North Carolina to search the vital records for a few years I might possibly have "stumbled on" the connecting link. Having to depend on correspondence has revealed many facts and a very plausible theory. The facts I shall copy herein. Perhaps some day this collection of them may help some one else to do a better job of this family history than I. It is entirely believable that all the Eason data belongs together.

I found a record of one Isaiah Eason who married three times----the last wife was probably a cousin because her name was Penelope Eason, the daughter of Captain John Eason of Topsail, Inlet, Carteret county, North Carolina. Isaiah and Penelope were the parents of Isaac, Thomas and John. This John was the father of another Thomas Eason, the artist and great mural painter who signed his work Z. TOMASSO. I had very pleasant correspondence with him over a period of years. He sent me a reproduction of one of his paintings. His son Henry is a veteran of World Wars I & II, and he lives in Mississippi.

Also in Perquimans county, N.C., was a record of one Horace Eason whose wife was Lydia Winslow. They had a son named William Thomas Eason, so it is easy to believe that they were of the same connections.

One William Eason of Perquimans county, N.C., whose wife was Mary----- had a will probated 1719. They were the parents of William junior who married Anne----- Jan. 24, 1734, and their seven children were:

1. William Eason IIIrd, who enlisted in the Revolutionary War July 20, 1777, served 9 mo. as Pvt. in Hogg's company.

2. George Eason, who died 1774 & left estate to children:

Jesse; Moses, Abner, George jr., daughter-in-law Sarah, grandchildren: Sarah, Rachel; Seth, Moses, Job, George, Abraham, Betsey, & a great-grandson Isaac Eason jr., son of Isaac son George.

3. Thomas Eason who left 640 acres of land to his son Joseph.

4. Jane "

5. Rachel "

6. Mary "

7. Susanna "

Of the preceding family Thomas and William jr. owned land in Chowan county, N.C., and George owned land in Pitt county. So the family had begun to spread out. I feel justified in believing that the Joseph who inherited 640 acres from his father Thomas shows our lineage. The dates work out exactly right.

There was a Jacob Eason, son of Abner, owned land in Perquimans county, and a Reuben Eason of Tyrell county was a prominent land owner. Reuben bought 200 acres from his brother-in-law Joseph Holliday in 1773. Martin county was formed soon after from Halifax and Tyrell counties, and this particular deed shows that Reuben Eason lived in that section of Tyrell which became Martin county. The frequent transfers of land between all these Easons shows that they were closely associated with each other, and I believe ~~all related to each other~~ as well as to the Easons in Bertie county, the two courthouses being only thirteen miles apart, although Bertie began its records in 1722.

In St. Luke's Episcopal cemetery, Norfolk, Virginia, is a tombstone of one James Eason who was born 1729, died 1767.

One Thomas G. Eason married Jane Strather and they had twelve children.

Another "unidentified" James K. Polk Eason of Tenn. was the father of eleven children five of whom grew to maturity in Lawrence county, Mo. They were Thomas, Mark, Sherman, Mary & Elbert. Elbert's daughter Mildred lives in Springfield, Mo. and I feel sure belongs to our clan but she would not cooperate to prove any ties.

There are dozens of references in Martin, Bertie, Stokes and other North Carolina counties showing transfer of real estate between, to or from Easons generations after generation. The county of Stokes was formed in 1790. Surry county, which joins Stokes on the west, formerly involved all the territory now known as Surry, Stokes, Forsyth and Yadkin counties. Surry is the "mother" of the other three. Probably 200 or more years back all of these four counties together with four or five others made up a territory known as Rowan county. The original county seat of Surry and Rockford was moved to Dobson after the establishment of Stokes and other counties. A new courthouse was erected at Dobson at that time. When it burned forty years later another was built. Only a small number of valuable old records were lost in the fire.

There are thirty-one memos of deeds to or from JOSEPH EASON of Stokes county, North Carolina from 1791 to 1834 (that was the grandfather of the JOSEPH EASON who migrated to Mo.) And I have memos of deeds mentioning MILLS EASON, son of this elder JOSEPH EASON, in six accounts from 1803 to 1813. The elder Joseph and Mills went into Dickson county, Tennessee when that part of the country was being settled, and they bought and sold land there extensively, but returned to North Carolina in 1824.

There is a will of Bethenia Eason, widow of Mills, showing her children to be:

JOSEPH EASON who m. Sarah Tuttle,	} Ch. of John & Barbara.
SUSANNA EASON " m. Peter Tuttle,
JANE EASON " m. Elijah Tuttle
JAMES K. EASON " m. Sarah Boles, &
WILLIAM EASON of whom I know nothing more.

This MILLS EASON & Bethenia Davis were married Dec.14,1804. Bethenia was the daughter of James & Margaret. Bethenia's sister Anna Davis married Joseph Eason jr., a brother of Mills. Another sister Elender married a Mr. Dearing, & still another sister: Rebecca Davis married his brother, another Mr. Dearing. It is probably thru one or both of these that migrated to Missouri with Joseph and James Eason. Then there is another possible connection with this record inasmuch as Mary Davis, another of Bethenia Eason's sister, married a John Salmonds, and they may have been the ancestors of the Nancy Salmonds who married William Riley Eason in 1861.

A close kinship exists between the Tuttle-Eason and the Davis-Eason families. I have lengthy copies of the last wills & testaments of James Davis and John Tuttle that are very interesting but I fear that there are not enough of the EASON descendants who would read them even if included in this record.

Actually, this is the story, in particular, of the descendants of Joseph and James Eason (brothers) who migrated to Missouri. Joseph, being the elder son of Mills & Bethenia, will hold first section, then James and his descendants.

Second section of the Eason record---that of James Knox Eason and his wife Sarah Boles who migrated from North Carolina to Missouri about 1840 with his brother Joseph (both sons of Mills), and some relatives named Dearing. It is with deep regret that I could not learn what became of James's son Alexander Eason, and his daughters Elizabeth Conner's and Angeline Reinfree's families. The book could have been so much more interesting had more people been cooperative. A large portion of the credit for the material obtained goes to William Dearing Eason (always called "Buck") and his sister Mrs. Ward ---also their brother Russell's wife Edna.

Further Notes on allied families:

In Will Book 4, p. 69-70, Stokes county, North Carolina, John Tuttle's will should be of interest to the descendants of Joseph Eason whose wife was John's daughter Sarah. There are items willing equal shares of his vast estate to his three children: Peter, Elijah and Sarah who married three Easons: Susanna, Jane & Sarah.

In the May term of court, Stokes co., N.C., May 27th, 1833 James Davis sr., bequeaths to two of his daughters, (as well as all other heirs but do not deem it necessary to elaborate on others not married into the Eason family, except the reference to his wife):

James left negroes: Tony, Lewis, Hose, Minny, Leak, Nell, Delpha, & Thery to wife Margaret, to remain with her during her natural life, then, after her decease to be sold & equally divided among all the now surviving children except negro woman Thery & her increase after death of wife to go to son William Davis.

"I give & bequeath unto my dau. Bethenia Eason over & above what I have already given her, a negro girl named Agge and a negro boy named Grun, during her natural life, then to be sold together with their increase & equally divided amongst her lawful heirs.

" I give & bequeath unto my dau. Anna Eason, over & above what I have already given her, a negro girl named Elvina & a negro boy named Stokes, & at her decease to be sold & equally divided amongst her lawful heirs together with the negroes increase."

RICKETTS GENEALOGY, by Ruth W. Lindenberg.

This is the way it was told to me: Three RICKETTS brothers migrated to America from Wales---unfortunately, their Christian names were not preserved for Posterity. However, the one from whom we are descended settled at Hagerstown, Maryland, later moved to Ohio and then to Illinois about 1850. John, the eldest son of this emigrant ancestor, came west prior to the Civil War and experienced great hardships in Missouri and Kansas Territory. He was a strong Union man. Reason Ricketts, the youngest son, settled in Iowa where a town was named in his honor, in Crawford county. Samuel Ricketts stayed in Kansas and reared a large family. It is of his genealogy which is hereby given.

Additional notes worth preserving:
Lindenberger-Ricketts.

Samuel Talar Ricketts, jr., enlisted in the Civil War, second call 73rd Illinois Volunteer Infantry Co. D, Triangle Insignia. His regiment was put with the army of the Cumberland, 4th Army Corps under Sheridan. He served three years. He was in the battle of Chickamauga (Tenn.)---also Siege of Atlanta.

Caroline Ricketts went with her husband John Scott in a covered wagon to California. On this trip, their first child was born. I was told that the caravan was stopped for only twenty-four hours, then proceeded westward with the young mother and babe resting in a hammock which had been strung from either end of the wagon. Couldn't a great novel of pioneer adventure be written about them?

The Ricketts family had several sets of twins, and some of the descendants married sister and brother "teams" as was so common with the Mason clan. For instance: Ida and Mary Ricketts married neighbors Bagland and Buchanan in Miami county, Kansas. Ida (Ricketts) Bagland's son Earl married Statie Buchanan whose half-sister Izora Clark's son Chester Clark married Ida's daughter Flossie. Izora Clark's daughter Bernice married Raymond Ricketts. Earl and Flossie Bagland are descendants of Henry Ricketts whereas Raymond Ricketts is a descendant of Alexander Ricketts.

Two sons of Lillie (Ricketts) Lindenberger: Ralph and Harvey, married two Masons: Mary and Ruth. Lillie was a niece of above Henry and Alex Ricketts.

Charles Ricketts married Fanny Sharp whose sister Label (Sharp) Mills's husband was Orrin Mills, was a brother of the Label Mills who was the second wife of Thomas Leslie Ricketts. Izora Clark's sister Delzora married an Alfred Sharp and their sister Mary Sharp married Walter Mills the brother of Orrin and Myrtle (Mills) Ricketts.

Cyrus A. Ricketts served in Spanish American War.
